KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: DR. DAVID KUHL

What We Know, Cures; Who We Are, Heals

The challenges faced by health care providers are varied: economic restraint and restructuring, increased patient complexity and an aging population, to name a few. Health care is generally based on a business model of efficiency. The work we do is based on relationships. How are health care providers sustained and able to find hope in the work place? How do we bring hope when we are in the presence of suffering? What might be regarded as healing, repairing or restoring resilience in the health care workplace?

Dr. David Kuhl, founder of the Palliative Care Program at St. Paul's Hospital (Vancouver), the Veterans Transition Program, and the Centre for Practitioner Renewal, will help us to approach these questions while honouring the complexity of the relationships in which we serve.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: ARCHBISHOP EMERITUS SYLVAIN LAVOIE

More than a Feeling: A Theological Reflection on Hope

Although some days can feel hopeless, our Christian faith tells us that hope is never lost. Archbishop Emeritus Sylvain Lavoie, a missionary Oblate who has spent over 30 years ministering among the aboriginal peoples of north and central Saskatchewan, will help us reflect on the deeper origins of hope and the powerful role it plays in our lives.

With Archbishop Lavoie, we will explore our call to discipleship and action, and the powerful witness of those whom we serve in Catholic health care.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: MARK PICKUP

Surprised by Hope

Mark Pickup's life and testimony speak volumes about the profound meaning that can be found in human suffering and limitation, through relationship with Jesus Christ. Mark, who has advanced multiple sclerosis and is wheelchair dependent, will share the story of his journey from despair to hope as he found meaning through his Christian faith. Mark reminds us that everyone who is suffering needs the support of a significant community to overcome their fears of pain and powerlessness.

INSPIRATIONAL SPEAKER: PHIL CALLAWAY

Laugh Again

For health care workers and volunteers, life can be serious business. So let international best-selling author and humorist Phil Callaway help you discover how to bring laughter to life and to the work place. With stories and ample humour, you'll discover 5 secrets for rediscovering the joy God intends, and the gift He has given us—the gift of laughter. Prepare for a 60-minute vacation and an unforgettable experience. This from the Canadian Cancer Society: "Phil has the ability to evoke many strong emotions in people, the greatest of which is pure joy!"

••• WORLD CAFÉ •••

Come join a brainstorming session of epic proportions! As we look to the future of Catholic health care, we want to hear your hopes for your facilities, your parishes, and anywhere else you may find yourself continuing the healing ministry of Christ. We will use the format of a world café to draw inspiration from our own Catholic health care community in Saskatchewan. In these sessions, participants will be asked to explore a set of questions at their table before visiting another table to hear their thoughts, providing us with an opportunity to learn from each others' challenges and to find inspiration in each others' successes.
