

Recently, Sacred Heart School/École Sacré Coeur welcomed Hoja to provide a musical performance for our students that not only entertained the students but also gave them some concrete tools for helping them shape their lives and achieve their dreams as the artists have done for themselves. Hoja also engaged students with their energy and music and delivered powerful messages throughout the show about what students can do when they witness bullying and the huge impact that "bystanders" can have.

Five of the Sacred Heart School/École Sacré Coeur classes travelled to local Estevan Care Homes to deliver Valentine's Day Cards to the residents as well as play games, read and visit with each of them. Our students continue to show love and mercy throughout our community each and every month. (See images below)
