

Learning comes in many ways--Rhea Good's class, from JP II Collegiate, learns first-hand, hands-on and with community members, how to garden. Students assist with planting in the Midwest Food Resources Community Garden, in North Battleford. Now that is cool!

